

CABINET C-4

This is the ideal complement to the engraving equipment, it allows working time to be reduced in relation to manual engraving by brush, since it permits viewing the abrasive application zone and avoids projection in unwanted areas, as well as regulating engraving depth.

The dust filtration system is formed by an independent unit that stops the corundum absorption and prevents its passing to the aspiration system.

The Ciclon unit is recommended as additional equipment.

